PRESS RELEASE

Datasection Inc.

Datasection Begins Delivery of NVIDIA B300-Powered GPU Servers to Its First AI Data Centre in Japan

Datasection Inc. (Head Office: Shinagawa-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Norihiko Ishihara; TSE Growth Market: 3905; hereinafter, “the Company”) hereby announces that it has begun taking delivery of GPU servers equipped with NVIDIA’s latest B300 GPUs at its first AI data centre in Japan, which is currently being prepared for operation, as previously announced in the Company’s notice dated 7 May 2026, entitled “Notice Concerning the Acquisition of Fixed Assets (GPU Servers Equipped with NVIDIA B300 GPUs)”.

Datasection is currently preparing to commence operations at AI data centres in Japan and overseas.

At its first AI data centre in Japan, the Company has begun taking delivery of GPU servers equipped with NVIDIA's latest B300 GPUs, acquired pursuant to a purchase agreement with Compal Electronics, Inc.

Construction work relating to the interior, electrical and air-conditioning systems is now largely complete. The Company is proceeding with the installation and set-up of the servers as they are delivered.

Datasection will continue to make steady progress towards the commencement of operations at the AI data centre. At the same time, the Company will accelerate the development of AI data centres in Japan and across the Asia-Pacific region, while expanding its global capacity to provide computing resources.

Once operational, the AI data centre will enable Datasection to provide high-performance AI infrastructure capable of supporting the development of generative AI models requiring substantial computing resources, as well as advanced high-performance computing (HPC) workloads.
